

This wet loose avalanche was on a west-southwest aspect in Beehive Basin. It broke to the ground (only 30 cm deep) but shows how a few hours of sun with above freezing temperatures can create wet slides, even in November! Photo: McKinley Talty

Advisory Region
Northern Madison
Longitude
-111.39W

Latitude

45.34N

Avalanche Details: Small wet avalanche in Beehive

Northern Madison, 2019-11-15