

Wolverine bowl

Date

Tue, 01/16/2024 - 12:00

Activity

Skiing

Wind slabs at the top of the ridge approximately 4-8 inches deep. Continued wind loading down the wolverine bowl, slabs softer the lower you go. Snowpack has about 1.5 feet of facets with a hard layer on top. New snow building up on top of that layer. Saw one small natural avalanche nearby, appeared a day old.

Region

Bridger Range

Location (from list)

Wolverine Bowl

Observer Name

Michela